Proposition 65 became law in November 1986 in California (USA). The official name of Proposition 65 is the Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986. Proposition 65 enables Californians to know the information of the products that they purchased in their homes or workplaces or that are released into the environment. Proposition 65 requires the product to warn Californians about significant exposures to chemicals that cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm.

Proposition 65 requires the state of California to maintain and update the list of chemicals known to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. The latest information of the list can be found on the OSHA website:
